Malvan Concept

Coastal Freshness.
Warm Hospitality.
Authentic Malvani
Flavor – Every Time.

Malvan is a coastal village in the state of Maharashtra, India. Its cuisine is known for bold spice blends, coconut, and seafood-forward dishes rooted in everyday cooking and meant to be shared.

Executive Chef Eric McCarthy, a native of Goa, was exposed to Malvani cuisine during his travels along India's western coast. He often describes it as a "fusion of flavors" while maintaining its own distinct identity. That connection is what led him to choose Malvan as the foundation for both the menu and the concept.

Chief Eric approaches the cuisine with deep respect for its origins, allowing the ingredients and flavors to speak for themselves while presenting them through a thoughtful, modern lens.
